Note.—All bidders are requested to extend the amount of their bids for each article, and exhibit the total amount of each bid. The periods and quantities of each delivery at those posts where they are not specified, will be, one-fourth 1st June, 1st September, 1st December, 1843, and 1st March, 1844. The hogs of which the pork is packed to be fattened on corn, and each hog to weigh not less than two hundred pounds, and consist of one hog to each barrel, excluding the feet, legs, ears and snout. Side pieces may be substituted for the hams.

The pork is to be first selted with Turk's Island salt and then carefully packed with the same article in pieces not exceeding ten p unds each. When the packing has been completed, the contractor must furnish to this office a certificate from the packer that the pork has been so raited and packed. Note.-All bidders are requested to extend the

The candles to have cotton wicks. The provisions for Prairie du Chien and St. Peters must pass St. Louis, for their ultimate destination, by the 15th of April, 1843. A failure in this particular will be considered a breach of contract, and the Department will be authorized to purchase to supply these posts. The provisions will be inspected at the time and place of delivery, and all expenses to be paid by contractors until they are deposited at such store-houses as may be designated by the agents of the Department.

The Commissary General reserves the privilege of increasing or diminishing the quantities, or of dispenses.

The Commissary General reserves the privilege of increasing or diminishing the quantities, or of dispensing with any or all articles required at any post, at any time before entering into contract, and also of increasing or reducing the quantities of each delivery one-third, subsequent to contract, on giving sixty days' previous notice.

Bidders, not heretofore contractors, are required to accompany their proposals with evidence of their ability, together with the names of their sureties, whose responsibility must be certified by the District Attorney, or by some person well known to the Government, otherwise their proposals will not be acted on.

Advances cannot be made in any case, and evidence of inspection and full delivery will be required at this office before requisition will be made upon the Treasury for payment, which will be effected in such public money as may be convenient to the points of delivery, the places of purchase, or the residence of the

manufactured in the village of Redford, county of Clinton, and State of New York.
To the Redford Crown Glass has been awarded the first Premium of the American Institute in the city of New York for five successive years, and has received a gold medal in commendation of its superior merits.

or merits.
This Glass is made from white flint sand, obtained in the vicinity of the works, and is the only Crown Glass made from that species of sand. It is capable of standing every change of climate, not will it lose its lustre by age.

The Redford and Saranac Crown Window Glass

The Redford and Saranac Crown Window Glass are distinguished from ordinary Glass by the uncommon evenness and beauty of surface, the superior transparency and lightness of color, the great thickness, and the general excellence of the materials which compose them. The surface not being polished after being blown, retains the enamel, brilliancy, and hardness, and is not subject to the objection so often applied to Piate Glass, or being easily defaced and perusuanntly bedimmed by dust; being made of extra thickness, will, without injury, withstand violent winds, haif storms, jars of cannon, &c. Its use, in the end, will prove more economical, independent of its adding so much to the beautiful appearance of buildings.

of its adding so much to the beautiful appearance of buildings.
Specimens of this deservedly popular Glass may be seen in the New York Exchange and Custom House, Howard's Hotel, Bronson's Buildings, Broadway, Centre Market, and a great many private residences and stores in various parts of the city; also, in the Exchange and Custom House, Boston; Girard Cullege, Philadelphia; Exchange Hotel, Baltimore; in the public buildings at Washington city; the Capital at Raleigh, North Carolina, and in many both public and private edifices throughout the United tol at Kaleigh, North Carolins, and in many both public and private edifices throughout the United States. It has been used in a great number of steamboats and railroad cars, and given entire satisfection. It is be leved that the above will suffice to prove that this Glass stands pre-eminent, and that it deservedly merits the approbation of builders and consumers of G ass.

The Saranac Crown Glass is most used in stores and buildings of the second males.

The Saranac Crown Glass is most used in stores and buildings of the second order, green houses, &c. where strength and clearness are particularly desired, and will range about 33 d per cent. cheaper than Redford. The double thickness is always used for lighthouses, and is taken by the true economist for sky lights, steamboats, ship.' cabin windows, &c. Ground Glass for sky lights, churches, and artists'

Ground Glass for sky lights, churches, and artists' windows, furnished to any pattern or size. The Glass is carefully packed in stout boxes, nailed, and secured so as to be transported with safety to any part of the United States.

For the more complete satisfaction of persons at a distance, who may not have an apportunity to examine this beautiful article, the following testimonials are respectfully offered for consideration.

Extract from the report of the committee of the American In titute, October, 1837:

"For richness of lustre and brilliancy of surface, as well as thickness and strength, the Redford Glass is the most beautiful article of the kind that has ever fallen under our notice, either of domestic or foreign pro-en under our notice, ei her of domestic or foreign pro-duction; and it affords a proud specimen of the skill and enterprise of American manufactures."

The following gentlemen, Architects, have permit ted us to use their names in commendation of the above Glass:

Robert Mills, Architect of the Public Buildings

Rebert Mills, Architect of the Public Buildings, Washington.

Thomas U. Walter, Architect of the Girard College, Philadelphia.

Isaiah Rogers, Architect, New York.

Ithiel Town, Architect, New York.
Calvin Pollard, Architect, New York.
Gamaliel King, Architect, New York.

Thomas Thomas, Architect, New York.

The subscribers have spared no pains to make this one of the best restablishments in the United States. Orders from any part of the United States for any sizes, from 6 x 4 to 30 x 18, Redford or Saranac for dwelling houses, stoies, light-houses, green houses, sky lights, &c. addressed to them or Charles Goff, Agent, New York, or to any of their selling agents, will be executed with care and prompt attention.

A The symptoms of Fever and Ague are, unfortunately, too well known; commencing with yawning, stretching, and uneasiness—this is succeeded by slight chills or shiverings, that end in a violent or convulsive shaking of the whole body—this is the cold fit, and immediately followed by the fever or hot fit—the pulse rises, the skin become hot, pain in the head, and all the symptoms of fever, terminating in a profuse sweat, which gradually ending, leaves the patient much weakened. This department is under the direction of the Hon. David Daggett, LL. D., late chief judge of the supreme court in Connecticut, and professor of law; and the Hon. Samuel J. Hitchcock, LL. D., judge of the New Haven city court; and Isaac H. Townsend, Esq., attorney and counsellor at law.

The students are required to peruse the most important elementary treatses, and are daily examined on the author they are reading, and receive at the same time explanations and illustrations of the subjects they are studying.

The students are divided into three classes; each class is daily employed upon a lesson in the class-book, and is separately examined; and every student can read in one or more of the three classes, as he finds himself able and inclined to perform the requisite labor.

One lecture and three examinations of one hour each, are daily given by the instructors, and at all of them each of the pupils is permitted to attend.

The course of lectures delivered by the professor of law comprises all the titles and subjects of common and statute law.

A moot court is held once a week or oftener, which employs the students in drawing pleadings, and investigating and arguing questions of law.

The students are called upon, from time to time, to draw declarations, pleadings, contracts, and other instruments connected with the practice of law, and to do the most important duties of an attorney's clerk.

to do the most important duties of an attorney's clerk.

They are occasionally required to write disquisitions on some topic of law, and collect the authorities to support their opinions.

The students are furnished with the use of the elementary books, and have access, at all times, to the college libraries, and to a law library, comprising every important work, both ancient and modern.

The law library contains the revised statutes, the reports, and the digests of all the States in the Union.

The course of study occupies two years, allowing eight weeks' vacation each year. The months of May and September are allotted for vacations.

The terms for tuition, with constant use of text books, and ordinary use of the library, are one hundred dollars per annum, payable in advance. For any less period than one year, ten dollars per month.

The degree of bachelor of laws will be conferred by the University at the next commencement, on liberally educated students who have been members of the department eighteen months, and have complied the department eighteen months, and have compl with the regulations of the institution, and passe satisfactory examination. Those not liberally educated will be graduated, upon similar conditions, af ter two years' membership aug. 22—3taw4w

POETS AND POETRY OF AMERICA. JUST published by CARY & HART, Philadelphia, The Poets and Poetry of America, with an Historical Introduction, by Rutus W. Griswold, in I large octavo volume, handsomely printed on fine paper, and illustrated by portraits of Bryant, Sprague-Longfeilow, Dana, and Halleck, and a beautiful

"This is the most valuable publication of the season. No collection of American poetry has ever been made at all comparable to this, whether we regard the co opleteness of the work, or the taste displayed in the selection. The work comprises selections from eightp-eight of our Poets, whose productions are prefected by neat biographies; and in an Appendix are contained selections from various Authors who, without pretending to the rank of Poets, have yet written occasional verses. Where the poet has published an edition of his own works, the selections are comparatively few; but where the author has left his works to take care of themselves, the extracte have been more voluminous. This is a praiseworthy feature, since it preserves to us in a collected form, the works of Whittier, Sprague, and others. The longest poems of Drake, Sprague and Whit ier, appear in this collection. We dismiss this national work with the assurance that every American who loves his country's muse, will possess himself of an early copy." Saturday Post.

ISLAND OF CUBA.

ISLAND OF CUBA.

TO INVALIDS AND PERSONS OF DELIAND.—Havana, December 15, 1841.—It has long been a matter of regret to the inhabitants of this city, that, on the arrival or invalids from the United States with letters of introduction, it has never been in their power to recommend them a suitable residence in the country. It has therefore been necessary for such persons either to take up their abode in the hotels in the town, where the nose and bustle of a crowded city, and the want of the pure atmosphere and calm retirement of a country life, prevent their deriving that benefit from the change of climate which they naturally expect, or they are compelled to go to places in the country where no adequate preparations have been made for receiving the n, and where the apartments, accommodations, and manner of living, are in no wise calculated for persons in a delicate state of health.

From a due consideration of this want, and of the great benefit that would be derived by invalids who seek to regain that health in the mild and beneficent climate of Cuba, if a suitable abode should be provided for them, the subscriber, a medical practitioner long established in this city, has appropriated his beautiful coffee estate called the Busna Esperanza, situated in the most healthy and remantic part of the country, so as to form a residence equally agreeable and attractive. In order to cerry out this intention to the fullest extent that professional knowledge and a long experience of the effects of tropical climates could attain, no pains have been spared to form an establishment, which affords to the in valid, as well as to the healthy visiter, every rational enjoyment that can be derived from dwelling in the mildest climate, surrounded by the most picturesque vegetation. The grounds, laid out in the bequitful style of a coffee estate, comprise about five hundred acres. The Busna Esperanza is situated on the south side of the island, and is thus, in a great measure, sheftered from the chilly winds which now and then blow Cuba. The house has been built with every attention to those comforts so indispensable to invalids, and of which the buildings of this country are so destitute. All the rooms have burded floors and glass windows. The establishment is on the footing of that of a private family, of which the guests form part, making themselves quite at home, and without bring confined to those regulations which are necessary at hotels. In this establishment the invalid has it in his power to vary his amusements, by walking in the shady avenues of mango and palm trees, riding on horseback or in a volante, or visiting the neighboring estates, so thickly spirad through the populous country. A large sugar estate, close at hand, affords an opportunity of drinking the hot cane juice, while the surrounding woods furnish amusement to the sportsman. nent to the sportsman.

The route, which crosses a most lovely country, is as follows: From Bayana to Bejucal, fifteen miles on railroad; from Bijucal to Buena Eaperanza, theoty miles on a carriage road. It occupies about five hours. By application to the subscriper at his residence in Havana, No. 95 O'Reitly street, the party can be forwarded to the action that the subscriper at his residence.

All persons applying are expected, if not previously known, to bring an introduction from some respectable mercantile house of this city.

EDWARD FINLAY, M. D.

I have visited and spent a short time at the estate I have visited and spent a short time at the estate of Dr. Finlay, described in the above letter, and must fully concur in every statement there made as to the Buena Esperanza. It is not surpassed for beauty of scenery and a healthy location by any place which I have seen in Cuba, and the invalid will find the numerous family of Dr. Finlay most agreeable and intellectual; and the English, French, and Spanish languages are all spoken by several members of the family.
